Dear Ljubisa Bojic,

Congratulations on your award of a Rising Voices grant to support the ongoing citizen media outreach work of the Serbian Web Journalism School. We hope that the support from Rising Voices will allow the Serbian Web Journalism School to expand its mission to capacitate Serbian communities that historically have been ignored by mainstream media to make their own voices heard using participatory media tools.

Rising Voices, an outreach initiative of Global Voices, aims to help bring new voices from new communities and speaking new languages to the global conversation by providing resources and funding to local groups reaching out to underrepresented communities. Global Voices was founded by the Berkman Center for Internet and Society at Harvard University.

Please address any questions or concerns to outreach@globalvoicesonline.org.

Sincerely yours,

David Sasaki

Director of Outreach, Global Voices
